

- Home
- Editions
- Webcasts
- Petroleum Assets
- Editorial
- Advertise
- Advertise
- C

www.NZResources.

Latest Edition

- contents
- president's report
- uncle duster's opinion repository
- letters to the editor
- industry news
 - Dividend delights dazzle Woodside shareholders
 - Government geoscience enters new phase in the search for oil and gas
 - TAG Oil sees Bakken-like prospects in NZ play
 - Chevron steps into Argentina shale with US$1.5 B investment
 - Canadian Court rules for Chevron in US$19 B lawsuit
 - ION GX Technology opens new processing centre in Australia
 - Welcome to the long distance LNG future
 - Statoil looks to farm in to BP Bight permits
 - APPEA slams cash bidding system for offshore exploration acreage
 - Santos stakes its territory
 - Tauton well update
 - Minister looks forward to LNG 18
 - Will Aus take its cue from Chevron and Shell ceasefire with Greens?
 - Chevron's E&P excellence results in takeover of Shell's No. 2 spot
 - UK shale industry: the fracking debate commences
- company news
- words
- technology
- south australia
- aussie overseas
- conference
- guest comment
- basin review
- legalease
- NWS 50th anniversary

DownUnder GeoSolutions Appoints New COO

Paul Crute, COO, DownUnder GeoSolutions.

DownUnder GeoSolutions appointed Paul Crute as its new Chief Operations Officer in September.

Crute joins the company with a 25 year career in the resources sector, including senior executive and management roles in the resources and oil and gas industry, most recently as Executive General Manager of Human Resources at Oil Search Ltd. Prior to that he was with BHP Billiton as Vice President of Human Resources for many of their divisions around the world.

This international management experience will serve him well in his new role at DownUnder GeoSolutions as they expand into new global markets. Although based in Perth, DownUnder GeoSolutions has a large hub in Malaysia and recently opened offices in Brisbane, Singapore, London and Houston.

Crute's role at DownUnder GeoSolutions will focus on managing the resources, infrastructure, systems and processes the company needs to meet its global growth objectives.

DownUnder GeoSolutions Managing Director, Dr Matthew Lamont said, "Paul Crute brings a new level of strategic business thinking to our company. His thorough understanding of our industry, coupled with his proven ability to build and manage organisational capability will be an incredible asset to our company as we continue our growth path."

Add your comment to this story

Enter your comment here *

Refresh Image
Listen to audio

Full name (will appear on site) *

Email Address *

Location (optional)

Enter the code above *

Add comments

Email me if my comment is published

